

Silence as students pay their respects

REFLECTION: Gemma Buckenham plays the Last Post; right, Connor Smith and Tamara Stewart, both 11, present a wreath

YOUNGSTERS gathered in silence to remember the sacrifice of Armed Forces servicemen and women. Kids at Stockwell Park High School in Stockwell Park Road observed a two-minute silence on Friday morning before marching to the Stockwell War Memorial.

The memorial was built in 1922 and lists the names of 574 local men who lost their lives in the First World War. The school's director of administration, Dr Chun Yu Lok, said: "The young people of today will shape our society of tomorrow and this is our additional focus on Remembrance Day. "It is an opportunity for them to understand and reflect on the wider impact of conflicts on the local and international community and a chance for them to appreciate what older generations have sacrificed for them."

SERVICE: Stockwell Park High School's Remembrance Day service