Platanos College pupils on BBC Newsround feature

On Thursday 17th October 2019, eight of our Key Stage 3 pupils were interviewed by the BBC's Newsround about their views on Brexit.

Our pupils spoke eloquently about their opinions on the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland leaving the European Union, in particular what they thought could be good about leaving the EU and at the same time what they are worried about.

The school was very proud of the pupils' contribution. We encourage our pupils to be well educated about topical events in order to make informed decisions. Our pupils were outstanding ambassadors of the school.
